FRANCE

[Original: French]

[21 May 1982]

The French Government approves this decision, and its delegation will not fail to raise the matter under the relevant agenda item at the next session of the General Assembly; the French delegation will point out that measures should perhaps be envisaged but that it would not seem possible for them to be more than recommendations to States parties as a whole, otherwise the authority of the General Assembly, in going beyond making such recommendations, might be challenged.
