I. CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD

1. Recommendation concerning sessions of the Committee or its subsidiary bodies

The Committee on the Rights of the Child,

Recalling the rapid entry into force of the Convention on the Rights of the Child ^{1/} and the unprecedented number of ratifications, which demonstrate a widespread commitment to the promotion and protection of the rights of the child,

Aware of the high expectations for effectiveness in the functioning of the Committee, which constitutes an essential mechanism for the implementation of the provisions of the Convention,

Noting that the initial report of some one hundred States parties will need to be considered by the Committee in a timely and thorough manner between 1992 and 1996, at which time the second periodic reports will start to be due,

Concerned about the workload of the Committee and the risk of building up an undesirable backlog in the consideration of such reports,

Convinced of the need to adopt urgent measures to deal with this situation,

1. Requests the General Assembly to authorize the Secretary-General to schedule at least two regular sessions of the Committee annually as from 1993, as well as to schedule in 1992, in addition to the Committee's second session, a one-week working group of the whole to prepare for the consideration of the first round of States parties' reports;

2. Also requests the General Assembly to authorize the establishment of a pre-sessional working group that would meet approximately two months in advance of each session to conduct a preliminary review of reports submitted under article 44 of the Convention and to consider questions relating to technical assistance and international cooperation pursuant to article 45 of the Convention.

2. Recommendation concerning sources of information

The Committee on the Rights of the Child,

Recalling the conclusion of the third meeting of persons chairing the human rights treaty bodies that "each treaty body should have access to all the sources of information it deemed necessary to fulfil its functions effectively," 2/ and bearing in mind that the information provided by non-governmental organizations and the experience and knowledge of the specialized agencies and other bodies of the United Nations have been recognized as having particular importance,

Considering that access by the Committee to all relevant sources of information pertaining to its functions will be essential to ensuring the effective performance of its activities,

1. Requests the Secretary-General to establish, as proposed by the second and third meetings of persons chairing the human rights treaty bodies, a committee resource room for the purpose of gathering and facilitating access to the various sources of information that are indispensable for the effective functioning of the Committee;

2. Requests the secretariat to report, at the beginning of each session, on the action taken pursuant to decisions adopted by the Committee at its previous session;

3. Also requests the secretariat to provide a documentary basis for the presentation by the Rapporteur or another designated member of the Committee of a comprehensive report on developments relevant to the work of the Committee that have occurred since the preceding session;

4. Further requests the secretariat to organize country files and to prepare an analytical study of available information concerning each State party whose report is to be considered by the Committee, taking into account both the reporting guidelines and data emerging from reports that have been submitted by the same State party to other treaty bodies;

5. Requests the secretariat to submit, at the beginning of each session, a list of reports received and those pending consideration in order to enable the Committee to plan its future work in an effective way;

6. Also requests the secretariat to submit to the Committee an updated list of reservations and objections to reservations to the Convention on the Rights of the Child; 1/

7. Further requests the secretariat to submit to the Committee a compilation of international instruments relevant to the work of the Committee, taking into account relevant instruments adopted by the various United Nations organs and specialized agencies as well as relevant recommendations and resolutions, as appropriate;

8. Requests the secretariat to provide the Committee with a compilation of the general comments and general recommendations adopted by the various human rights treaty bodies;

9. Requests the Secretary-General to strengthen, in the context of the technical assistance and advisory services programme of the Centre for Human Rights, the training activities related to the implementation of the Convention and, pursuant to the recommendation of the third meeting of persons chairing the human rights treaty bodies, 3/ to consider organizing seminars and workshops at the national level for the purpose of training those involved in the preparation of State party reports to prepare those reports in accordance with the reporting guidelines.

3. Recommendation concerning relations with other United Nations organs and treaty bodies

The Committee on the Rights of the Child,

Recognizing the importance of establishing effective communication and dialogue with the other human rights treaty bodies on common issues and problems,

Considering the need to ensure its participation in activities taking place within the United Nations which are of relevance to its work,

1. Welcomes and endorses the recommendation made by the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights to hold, possibly in 1992, a meeting with members of that Committee as well as with members of the Human Rights Committee, the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women and the Committee on the Rights of the Child, with a view to discussing matters of mutual interest relating to the rights of the child;

2. Welcomes the opportunity to participate in the future meetings of persons chairing the human rights treaty bodies;

4. Welcomes the possibility of participating in the seminar of experts on appropriate indicators to measure achievements in the progressive realization of economic, social and cultural rights to be organized under the United Nations programme of human rights activities in 1992-1993, as requested by the Commission on Human Rights 4/ and as endorsed by the Economic and Social Council. 5/

1. Requests the Secretary-General to ensure, as recommended by the second and third meetings of persons chairing the human rights treaty bodies, that the United Nations information centres make freely available on a routine basis the documents of the Committee for general distribution, particularly the reports of the Committee, the reports submitted to the Committee by the State in whose territory the information centre is located, and the summary records relating to the examination of such reports;

2. Also requests the Secretary-General to provide for, and to facilitate and encourage, the dissemination of information concerning the Convention on the Rights of the Child and the work of the Committee.

(g) Special studies should be undertaken during the preparatory process to enable the World Conference to implement the provisions contained in paragraph 1 (b) of General Assembly resolution 45/155.

II. ORGANIZATIONAL AND OTHER MATTERS

1. As at 18 October 1991, the closing date of the first session of the Committee on the Rights of the Child, there were 98 States parties to the Convention on the Rights of the Child. The Convention was adopted by the General Assembly in resolution 44/25 of 20 November 1989 and opened for signature and ratification or accession in New York on 26 January 1990. It entered into force on 2 September 1990, in accordance with the provisions of article 49 of the Convention.
2. The first session of the Committee on the Rights of the Child was held at the United Nations Office at Geneva from 30 September to 18 October 1991. At its 2nd meeting, the Committee adopted the provisional agenda contained in document CRC/C/1 as the agenda of its first session (see annex I). An account of the deliberations of the Committee is contained in the relevant summary records (CRC/C/1991/SR.1-27).
3. In accordance with article 43 of the Convention, the States parties, at their 1st meeting, held at United Nations Headquarters from 27 February to 1 March 1991, elected the 10 members of the Committee on the Rights of the Child from a list of persons nominated by States parties. A list of the members of the Committee, together with an indication of the duration of their terms of office, appears in annex II to the present report. With the exception of Mrs. Borges de Omena, all members attended the first session of the Committee. Mr. Mombeshora and Mgr. Bambaren Gastelumendi were unable to attend the entire session.
4. At its 2nd meeting, the Committee elected its Chairperson, in accordance with article 43, paragraph 9, of the Convention. Following the adoption of rule 16 of its provisional rules of procedure, the Committee elected three vice-chairpersons and a Rapporteur. The officers of the Committee, all of whom were elected by acclamation, are:

Chairperson: Mrs. Hoda Badran

Vice-chairpersons: Mgr. Luis A. Bambaren Gastelumendi
Mrs. Flora C. Eufemio
Mr. Yuri Kolosov

Rapporteur: Mrs. Marta Santos Pais

III. OVERVIEW OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE COMMITTEE

A. Provisional rules of procedure

5. The consideration of its rules of procedure afforded the Committee an occasion to discuss a wide range of issues relating to its work. With regard to the question of the frequency of its meetings, members of the Committee were particularly concerned that sufficient time should be available for the Committee to deal effectively with the heavy workload that was expected. It was noted, for example, that the initial reports of some 100 States parties would need to be considered by the Committee between 1992 and 1996, before the second periodic reports became due, and that a single annual session of three weeks' duration would clearly not permit timely and thorough action on those reports even if the Committee devoted its time exclusively to that one activity. Additionally, the Committee would be unable effectively to address its important other responsibilities, including those regarding technical assistance under article 45, the consideration of special studies and other reports submitted to it, the formulation of general recommendations on the implementation of the Convention and the formulation of general comments to assist States parties in fulfilling their reporting obligations. Accordingly, rule 2, paragraph 1, of the Committee's rules of procedure, as adopted, provides that "the Committee shall normally hold two regular sessions annually" and the Committee adopted a recommendation to the General Assembly in this regard (see sect. I, recommendation 1).

6. Members of the Committee recognized the importance of enlisting the cooperation and assistance of the specialized agencies, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), United Nations organs and other competent bodies in the Committee's efforts to evaluate and facilitate the implementation of the Convention in all regions of the world, and felt that the information, documentation and expertise of those diverse bodies and organizations could usefully contribute to the work of the Committee, both with regard to reports or advice that might be requested under article 45, subparagraph (a), of the Convention and studies that might be requested on specific issues under article 45, subparagraph (c). The procedures relating to the participation of these relevant bodies and agencies are set out in rule 34. In adopting that rule, the Committee emphasized the need to conserve a maximum of time for the Committee's dialogue with States parties.

7. A number of other key concerns of the Committee were identified during the discussions on the rules of procedure. Among these were the Committee's working methods in relation to the consideration of reports and ways to publicize the work of the Committee. The views expressed on those matters during the consideration of the rules of procedure are included under the relevant headings elsewhere in the present report. The provisional rules of procedure were adopted by the Committee at its 22nd meeting, on 15 October 1991 (see annex IV).

B. Matters relating to the Committee's methods of work in respect of the consideration of reports to be submitted by States parties in accordance with article 44 of the Convention

1. Guidelines

8. Members of the Committee emphasized that the reporting process should establish an open and constructive dialogue between the Committee and the States parties for the purpose of improving the situation of children and that it would provide an opportunity for States parties to monitor their policies on a regular basis and to focus on areas where further action was required.

9. The Committee agreed that the reporting guidelines should provide for clustering the articles of the Convention according to themes rather than an article-by-article approach. It was felt that such a thematic approach would facilitate the preparation of reports by States parties by grouping together those articles which were most closely related. At the same time, it was underlined that the rights contained in the Convention were interrelated and that each one was fundamental to the dignity of the child. The implementation of each right should, therefore, take into account the implementation of or respect for all the other rights.

10. The reporting guidelines regarding the form and contents of initial reports, as adopted by the Committee at its 22nd meeting, are reproduced in annex III to the present report.

2. Dossiers and resource room

11. The Committee also noted the importance of maintaining dossiers of information for each State party on the implementation of the Convention, containing reports, statistical data and other relevant material prepared by United Nations organs, specialized agencies and other competent bodies. It was pointed out that a computerized database on children's rights would be particularly valuable in that regard and all efforts to that end should be encouraged. The Committee also urged that a committee resource room should be established in the Centre for Human Rights where documentation emanating from the various United Nations human rights organs, including the treaty bodies, could be kept and consulted by members of the various treaty bodies (see sect. I, recommendation 2).

3. Pre-sessional working group

12. The Committee agreed that there would be a need for a pre-sessional working group to facilitate its work under articles 44 and 45 of the Convention, primarily by reviewing States parties' reports and identifying in advance the main questions that would need to be discussed with the representatives of the reporting States. That would facilitate the task of States parties by providing advance notice of the principal issues arising from the examination of their reports and would significantly improve the efficiency of the reporting system. It would also permit the consideration of questions relating to technical assistance and international cooperation (see sect. I, recommendation 1). It was envisaged that the working group would normally meet approximately two months in advance of each session as from 1993.

4. Technical assistance and advisory services

13. When considering recommendation 2, paragraph 9, members of the Committee stressed the importance of receiving from States parties information on the implementation of the Convention. In that context, the Committee also emphasized the importance of the programme of advisory services and technical assistance of the Centre for Human Rights in relation to the rights of the child. States parties should also be informed about the nature of that programme and the possibilities of obtaining support from the programme for the implementation of the Convention.

C. Cooperation with specialized agencies, the United Nations Children's Fund, United Nations organs and other competent bodies

14. It was recognized that the convention provided a particularly valuable framework for the specialized agencies, UNICEF, United Nations organs and other competent bodies to guide activities and programmes affecting children. Additionally, it was noted that the Convention served as a useful basis for meaningful cooperation and dialogue among all the various bodies concerned.

15. With regard to the work of the Committee, members pointed out that there should be effective coordination in the provision of relevant information from intergovernmental and non-governmental sources on the implementation of the Convention in States submitting reports. Members of the Committee also noted that the Committee would need to obtain information on relevant activities being carried out by the specialized agencies, United Nations organs and other competent bodies in order to determine how the implementation of the provisions of the Convention was being or could be affected by those activities and what kind of technical assistance or advice would be appropriate, based on the situation in the respective countries. The Committee would also need to receive information from agencies providing such technical assistance on the results being achieved. Attention was drawn to the need for the Committee to formulate, at the end of the consideration of each report, concluding observations reflecting the discussion that had taken place and indicating which issues would require specific follow-up.

D. Future meetings of the Committee and other matters

16. The Committee decided to hold its second session from 28 September to 9 October 1992 and subsequently a one-week working group of the whole to prepare for the consideration of the first round of States parties' reports. Based on the projected schedule for the submission of initial reports from States parties, the Committee agreed tentatively that its third session should be held in January 1993.

17. The Committee also discussed the importance of organizing informal meetings outside Geneva so as to provide a greater awareness of its work, as well as a more comprehensive understanding of the actual situation of children in the various regions of the world. The Committee expressed the hope that such informal meetings could be organized with the assistance and support of United Nations agencies and organs and other competent bodies active in the field of the rights of the child, and requested its Chairperson as well as Mgr. Bambarén Gastelumendi, one of its vice-chairpersons, to work towards the realization of a proposal to hold a seminar on the rights of the child in Latin America in 1992 in cooperation with UNICEF and other possible sponsors.

18. The Committee discussed the World Conference on Human Rights. For its consideration, the Committee had before it the report of the first session of the Preparatory Committee, held from 9 to 13 September 1991 at Geneva. As a result of the discussion, the Committee adopted recommendation 5 contained in section I of the present report.

19. A paper on possible working methods of the Committee was prepared by a member and was discussed by the Committee at its 23rd meeting, on 16 October 1991. Members of the Committee requested that the paper be revised in the light of the views expressed and made available to the Committee at its next session.

IV. ADOPTION OF THE REPORT

20. At its 25th to 27th meetings, held on 17 and 18 October 1991, the Committee considered the draft interim report on its first session. The report, as amended during the course of the discussion, was unanimously adopted by the Committee.

ANNEX III

General guidelines regarding the form and contents of initial reports to be submitted by States parties under article 44, paragraph 1 (a), of the Convention*

INTRODUCTION

1. Article 44, paragraph 1, of the Convention on the Rights of the Child provides that:

"States parties undertake to submit to the Committee, through the Secretary-General of the United Nations, reports on the measures they have adopted which give effect to the rights recognized herein and on the progress made on the enjoyment of those rights:

"(a) Within two years of the entry into force of the Convention for the State party concerned;

"(b) Thereafter every five years".

2. Article 44 of the Convention further provides, in paragraph 2, that reports submitted to the Committee on the Rights of the Child shall indicate factors and difficulties, if any, affecting the degree of fulfilment of the obligations under the Convention and shall also contain sufficient information to provide the Committee with a comprehensive understanding of the implementation of the Convention in the country concerned.

3. The Committee believes that the process of preparing a report for submission to the Committee offers an important occasion for conducting a comprehensive review of the various measures undertaken to harmonize national law and policy with the Convention and to monitor progress made in the enjoyment of the rights set forth in the Convention. Additionally, the process should be one that encourages and facilitates popular participation and public scrutiny of government policies.

4. The Committee considers that the reporting process entails an ongoing reaffirmation by States parties of their commitment to respect and ensure observance of the right set forth in the Convention and serves as the essential vehicle for the establishment of a meaningful dialogue between the States parties and the Committee.

5. The general part of States parties' reports, relating to matters that are of interest to monitoring bodies under various international human rights instruments, should be prepared in accordance with the "Consolidated guidelines for the initial part of the reports of States parties", as contained in document HRI/1991/1. The present guidelines, which were adopted by the Committee on the Rights of the Child at its 22nd meeting, held on

* Adopted by the Committee at its 22nd meeting, on 15 October 1991.

15 October 1991, should be followed in the preparation of the initial reports of States parties relating to the implementation of the Convention on the Rights of the Child.

6. The Committee intends to formulate guidelines for the preparation of periodic reports that are to be submitted pursuant to article 44, paragraph 1 (b), of the Convention in due course.

7. Reports should be accompanied by copies of the principal legislative and other texts as well as detailed statistical information and indicators referred to therein, which will be made available to members of the Committee. It should be noted, however, that for reasons of economy they will not be translated or reproduced for general distribution. It is desirable, therefore, that when a text is not actually quoted in or annexed to the report itself, the report should contain sufficient information to be understood without reference to those texts.
