Fifty-second session
Item 14 of the provisional agenda

EFFECTIVE FUNCTIONING OF BODIES ESTABLISHED PURSUANT TO UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS INSTRUMENTS

Inventory of all international human rights
standard-setting activities

Report of the High Commissioner for Human Rights prepared in accordance with Commission on Human Rights resolution 1995/92

Introduction

1. In its resolution 1995/92, entitled "Effective implementation of international instruments on human rights, including reporting obligations under international instruments on human rights", the Commission on Human Rights requested the High Commissioner for Human Rights, acting within his mandate set out in General Assembly resolution 48/141, to maintain an inventory of all international human rights standard-setting activities, in order to facilitate better informed decision-making.

2. One of the most important contributions of the United Nations to the protection of human rights is in the setting of international standards. In this connection, the World Conference on Human Rights recognized the need to maintain consistency with the high quality of existing international standards and to avoid proliferation of human rights instruments, reaffirmed the guidelines relating to the elaboration of new international instruments set by the General Assembly (resolution 41/120 of 4 December 1986) and called on the United Nations human rights bodies, when considering the elaboration of new international standards, to keep those guidelines in mind, to consult with human rights treaty bodies on the necessity for drafting new standards and to request the Secretariat to carry out technical reviews of proposed new instruments.

3. The present report has been prepared in accordance with the above request. It consists of three parts: ongoing standard-setting activities by the Commission on Human Rights; standard-setting activities proposed by the Commission on Human Rights; standard-setting activities proposed or conducted by the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities. The High Commissioner for Human Rights refers to the inventory of all international human rights standard-setting activities as presented in the report of the Secretary-General prepared in accordance with Commission on Human Rights resolution 1994/19 (E/CN.4/1995/81), the format of which is pursued in this report.
